Guaranteed purity over 90%

Short description:

A natural fibre fighting fat accumulation

Chitosan is a fibrous substance obtained from chitine, the main constituent of the carapaces of crustaceans.

Attracting fat like blotting paper, it forms a gel with it which is eliminated naturally.

It facilitates weight loss, by preventing assimilation of the fats contained in food and thus leading the body to use its fat reserves.

It also supports intestinal and bowel function .

Our Chitosan is deacetylated to over 90%. This rate guarantes that it has the highest effectiveness, as it is only when deacetylated that it can bind itself to cholesterol or fat in the intestine.

Detailed information

This fiber is used as a dietary supplement and gives a sensation of satiation. It works like a sponge on edible fats and oils and forms an undigestable sludge, which is afterwards disposed of by natural means. This preventive measure frees the body of all extra fat loads and causes it to start using up its own fat reserves. This is an absolute weight loss must...that puts an end to any feeling of heaviness !
